

“Children learn skills. Adults learn wisdom...It’s perfectly all right for a schoolchild to say, “I have finished with my schooling.” But is it all right for an adult to say, “I have finished with adult learning,” unless he is also willing to say, “I am done with my life”?...To live is to grow. And as soon as we stop growing, we begin to die. When we stop learning, then the mind also ceases to grow and begins to die. It begins to atrophy just the way the body does.”

Mortimer J. Adler

²⁸ “Come to me, all of you who are tired from carrying heavy loads, and I will give you rest.

²⁹ Take my yoke and put it on you, and learn from me, because I am gentle and humble in spirit; and you will find rest. ³⁰ For the yoke I will give you is easy, and the load I will put on you is light.”

Matthew 11:28-30 (GNT)

John Green

Best-Selling & Award-Winning Novelist

Green was a chaplain and training for ministry when a young boy was struggling with life-threatening burns from a fire.

The tragedy led John to doubt the existence of God and leave the ministry.

18 years later, John talked to the young man who survived the burns: “God works all things together for our good. That burn led my family to Christ.”
